CLASS POEM

We now come to the end of our high school years,
Even the thought of leaving brings us to tears.
Yet a very bright future lies before,
Could we as youths ask anything more?
We must try with all our might,
To strive for the things that we know to be right.
We are girded for the years ahead,
By our kind teachers we've been gently lead.
Many dear friends we have won,
Both at work and when at play.
Many sweet memories of friends so kind,
Will linger forever in our minds.
May we as we leave our school so dear,
Grow greater and greater year by year.
May we never think of becoming distressed,
So that we may reach the top of the ladder of success.

CLASS HISTORY

Eleven years ago--in 1930, to be exact--the history of our 1941 graduating class began.

From year to year our enrollment has changed. As a matter of course, some members left us. Others joined us.

Upon our entrance into high school fifteen of the original members remained--Cleo Crowell, Vivian Stegall, Elizabeth Tomberlin, Margaret Lemmond, Eula Killough, Frances Tomberlin, Kathryn Deese, Mary Louise Freesland, Martha Eva Rogers, Annie Mae Blanchard, Earsel Sossamon, Bonnie Helms, Ted Hartis, Norman Horton, and Bruce Stinson. Additional students from Shiloh, Stephenson, and other schools brought the enrollment up to thirty-five.

At the beginning of our first year in high school Mr. Oscar W. Broome became our principal and Mr. John B. Morris was our home room teacher.

Mr. H. C. Sinclair served as our sophomore home room teacher. Frances Tomberlin was elected president and Betty Crowell, secretary.

Mr. Sinclair remained as our home room teacher during our Junior year. V. T. Helms, Jr. served as president and Willene Williams as secretary.

On November 21, 1939, the following members of the class presented, under the direction of Mr. Sinclair, a three-act comedy, "That Lucas Family": Cleo Crowell, Marjorie Garrison, Eula Killough, Earsel Sossamon, Frances Tomberlin, James Conder, V. T. Helms, Jr., Clyde Honeycutt, Norman Horton, and Charles Simpson.

Participants in basket ball during 1939-1940 included Cleo Crowell, Marjorie Garrison, Eula Killough, Earsel Sossamon, Frances Tomberlin, V. T. Helms, Jr., Clyde Honeycutt, Norman Horton, and Charles Simpson.

At the conclusion of our Junior year we entertained the seniors by taking them on an all day picnic to Morrow Mountain.

A greater amount of dignity characterized our entrance into the Senior Class. Miss Annie Mae Flowe has served as our sponsor during this year.

Ruth Moore, from Wesley Chapel, joined us at the beginning of this school year.

On November 26, Senior members of the local chapter of the National Beta Club presented, under Miss Flowe's direction, a three-act comedy, "Grandpa's Twin Sister." Hazel Conder, Cleo Crowell, Eula Killough, Frances Tomberlin, James Conder, Ted Hartis, V. T. Helms, Jr., Boyce Klutts, and Charles Simpson took part. Mary Kate Simpson, of the Junior Class, completed the cast.

The annual Beta Club banquet was held on February 14. Mayor Ben E. Douglas, of Charlotte, was the principal speaker. Senior members attending included Hazel Conder, Cleo Crowell, Eula Killough, Frances Tomberlin, James Conder, Ted Hartis, V. T. Helms, Jr., and Boyce Klutts.

"This Thing Called Love" presented on March 26, under Miss Marjorie Galloway's direction, included the following cast: Cleo Crowell, Earsel Sossamon, Willene Williams, Frances Tomberlin, Ruth Moore, Clyde Honeycutt, V. T. Helms, Jr., Charles Simpson, Boyce Klutts, and Philip Yandle.

Members of the Senior Class who have taken part in basketball during 1940-1941 have included Eula Killough, Marjorie Garrison, Frances Tomberlin, Ruth Moore, Clyde Honeycutt, V. T. Helms, Jr., Charles Simpson, Norman Horton, and Paul Williams.

The Class day play, "A Senior in Wonderland," on April 15, and the graduating exercises, on April 18, concluded the high school career of the class of 1941.

PROPHECY

During my high school career at Indian Trail, I have become somewhat of a prophet. So, having been called upon to prophesy the future of the class of 1941, I close my eyes and gaze intently into the dazzling future.

Ten years from now I see Harley Howard as an instructor in the Chicago Medical Foundation.

V. T. Helms, our class president, is manager of the Eastern Air Line. His headquarters are in Miami.

Willene Williams is dean of women at Flora McDonald College.

Hazel Conder is the wife of an army officer.

Earsel Sossamon, once a good player herself, is coaching basket ball at Indian Trail.

Ruth Moore is famous as a singer on Broadway.

Frances Timberlin is a second Sonja Henie. Her skating and dancing have made her famous.

Philip Yandle is driving a bus for the Queen City Coach between Philadelphia and New York.

Cleo Crowell and Vivian Stegall, heirs to fortunes, are vacationing at Bermuda. They plan to go abroad at an early date.

Bessie Lee Nash, Cora Mae Whitley, and Ruth Helms are successful nurses in the Franklin Memorial Hospital, in Chicago.

Roy Garrison is a leading civil engineer.

Eula Killough, as an interior decorator, has made many homes beautiful by her good taste and ability.

Sarah Kindley and Martha Eva Rogers are operators of the Petite Beauty Salon in Boston.

Charles Simpson is director of Athletics at Mars Hill Junior College.

Bruce Stinson and Ted Hartis are outstanding agricultural leaders in the eastern part of the state.

Ray Crooke heads the Crooke Publishing Company. It is a common occurrence to read books which have just come off his press.

James Conder has just sailed for South America where he will serve as a missionary.

Boyce Klutts, a radio announcer, is widely known as a news analyst.

Bonnie Helms is playing the part of "Baby Snooks" on the "Story Hour."

Kathryn Decse is a M. G. M. star. She has a screen name, of course.

Mary Louise Freesland and Margaret Lemmond are teaching in the Indian Trail High School.

Annie Mae Blanchard is a gifted seamstress in the J. B. Ivey Store in Charlotte.

Ann Elizabeth Tomberlin is a well-known commercial artist.

Marjorie Garrison has just completed a book, "Paradise." The information was obtained from a voyage she made back in 1944 from San Francisco to Honolulu.

My eyes are becoming blurred and I can see no longer into the future which is so fascinating. I have described the yet-to-be as I saw it. Will I be right? I shall hope so.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

WE, the Senior class of nineteen hundred and forty-one, of the Indian Trail High School, of the city of Indian Trail, State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament in manner and form as follows:

FIRST: We, the Senior class of nineteen hundred forty-one, do solemnly give and bequeath to the underclassmen of Indian Trail High School our ability to pass enough work to get sixteen units of credit.

SECOND: I, Clyde Honeycutt, do give and devise to Frank Hayes my good looks.

THIRD: I, Ruth Moore, do hereby give to Katie Lee Helms my beauty and to Mr. Phillips my ability to hold my temper.

FOURTH: We, Willene Williams and Boyce Klutts, do give and bequeath to Mayo Honeycutt and Mary Frances Moore out best-all-round personalities.

FIFTH: We, Marjorie Garrison, E. E. Eames, Sossamon, Norman Hosten, and Charles Simpson, do solemnly give and devise to Mary Kate Simpson, Doris Thompson, Billy Flowe, and Charles Wayne Rowell, our outstanding athletic abilities.

SIXTH: We, the Senior class, do hereby solemnly give and bequeath to Miss Galloway our ability to be "Those Privileged Characters," in this wide, cold world, that we have tried to be in her class.

SEVENTH: I, Eula Killough, give and bequeath to Lois Thompson my ability to sing classical music.

EIGHTH: We, Sarah Kindley and James Conder, do give and devise to Kathleen Hargett and Naomi Bandy, our business-like abilities.

NINTH: We, Bessie Lee Nash and Ray Crooke, do give and bequeath to the members of the incoming Senior class, our English literature books.

TENTH: I, Phillip Yandle, do hereby give and bequeath to my cousin, Henry Klutts, my ability to be cute all the time in all places.

ELEVENTH: We, Trances Tomberlin and Roy Garrison, do give and devise to Marie Ford, Joe Neal Broome, and Roland Hartis, our abilities to be neat in our dress at all times.

TWELFTH: We, Bonnie Helms and Martha Eva Rogers, do solemnly give and bequeath to Hazel Drucker and Betty Crowell, our babyish ways.

THIRTEENTH: We, Hazel Conder and V. T. Helms, Jr., do give, devise, and bequeath to Jessie Nell Richardson and Nelson Helms, our abilities to influence others.

FOURTEENTH: We, Guy Privette and Bruce Stinson, to hereby give and bequeath to Mr. Brutus Gaddy, our sincere appreciation for the agricultural knowledge he has imparted to us.

FIFTEENTH: I, Cathorine Deese, do give and bequeath to my sister, Pattie Reid, my unselfish qualities.

SIXTEENTH: I, Ted Hartis, do give and bequeath to Paul Stinson, my place as most courteous student.

SEVENTEENTH: We, Annie Mae Blanchard, Mary Louise Freesland, and Margaret Lemmond, do give to Edith Horton and Verla Mae Honeycutt, our dependable characteristics.

EIGHTEENTH: We, Cora Mae Whitley, Alice Crowell, and Vivian Stegall, do give and bequeath to Martha Ferris Helms and Alma Harris, our possibilities of having the brightest futures.

NINETEENTH: We, Harley Howard and Paul Williams, do give and devise to Louise Simpson and Bartley Benton, our industrious qualities.

TWENTIETH: We, Ruth Helms and AnniElizabeth Tomberlin, do give to Watsie Starnes, Helen Faulk, Gladys Porter, and Verla Ruth Helms, our sweet and friendly dispositions.

TWENTY*FIRST: We, the Seniors of the nineteen hundred and forty-one Senior class, do give and bequeath to our basket-ball coaches, Miss Brewer and Mr. Nixon, our appreciation for what they have done for us during the year.

LASTLY: We, the Senior class of nineteen hundred and forty-one, bequeath and devise to Miss Annie Mae Flowe and Mr. Oscar W. Broome, our thanks and appreciation for all the aid and guidance they have given us during our high school years.

Having thus made our last dispositions and provided for their due execution in the course of human events, we do set our hand and seal to the document on this the eighteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.
